

Urgent and time sensitive

Dear congressperson,

I need a response today. I ask that you respond to email address jon.perryman@gmail.com with “yes, I will help you”, “no, I won’t help” or “I need ## days to consider this” where ## is the number of days.

I need your help in defense of the Constitution. Your oath says you will defend the Constitution against all domestic enemies. I was in contact with congresswoman Eshoo but she stopped responding after I asked her to look at the legal definition of “peaceful protest” (see <https://civilrights.findlaw.com/enforcing-your-civil-rights/is-there-a-right-to-peaceful-protest.html>).

Less than 1% of the BLM protests meet the legal definition “peaceful protest”. By ignoring the legal definition of “peaceful protest” for BLM protests for the last 3 months, millions of Americans are being denied their civil rights as protected by the Constitution. Specifically, the 14th amendment “equal protection of the laws”.

We must act now. Tensions keep rising because our Constitutional rights are not being defended by congress. We need you to return our Constitution back to the people.

I have a list of actions that need to occur to address these flagrant abuses. The most import should avoid severe fallout by having someone speak out who represents both sides. Senator Kamala Harris is uncompromising in her support of BLM and has participated in BLM protests without defending the Constitution. She says she stands against injustice. She needs to speak out now.

Please let me know your decision ASAP as the Constitution needs protection now. If you decide to help, then please include how we should communicate.

Jon Perryman. Jon.perryman@gmail.com